FRIENDS AND FAMILY DAY SATURDAY

As we did last year, the Reading Friends and Family Day will be held this coming Saturday on Reading Common and for the second year in a row we will have a booth at the event. It is being coordinated by the Reading Lions Club, another service organization that does wonderful things for the town. Things will get underway at 10:00 am and will go until 2:00 pm. Lynne Toothacker is our coordinating specialist and yes, she is still looking for volunteers. Originally it was planned to have the new Peter Sanborn Place van as our headliner but it was felt that because of its size, it would have to go in the Town Hall parking lot and there was not sufficient space to place it out front in the center of activities and the fear was that few would see our booth. So, it was decided to stay out front with less space and have better vision for the town folks who show up. If you wish to volunteer, see Lynne.

VISIT CASA BAKERY

Our latest new member is Jesus Balza and he has already shown a real desire to become a top Rotarian. Jesus has participated in the several of our events including Pete Smargon's retirement party and our annual auction as well as the installation of John Douglass as president of our club.. Jesus operates Casa Bakery on Main Street adjacent to Reading Liquors. Jesus is a resident of Medford on the Revere Beach Parkway and in his application to our club has sated as his goals to "Give service to the Reading community. To participate in activities that would bring people together for the benefit of the community. Help the needy in any possible way and to enhance their lives". Quite a list. Welcome aboard Jesus!

A NEW PRINCIPAL

For those of you who have not as yet heard the latest news in the Kelley and Cavagnaro families, Chris has been appointed principal of the Goodyear elementary school on Montvale Avenue in Woburn. Chris had been interviewed for two other elementary principal positions in Woburn but ended up disappointed. She stuck with it and Superintendent Carl Batchelder seemed to really like her and when the Goodyear position opened up, he gave her a call. The Goodyear shool is a long time institution in Woburn and his named after Charles Goodyear, the individual who was credited with the vulcanization of rubber. It is a small neighborhood shool that won national reputation a number of years ago when a number of youngsters were diagnosed with leukemia. A court case and later a movie with John Travolta, "A Civil action" followed. It all related to a water supply that has long ago been taken out of service. The school itself has an outstanding reputation including achieving top scores in the state for MCAS for the fifth grade level. Husband Tim and mother Laurie, and dad Bob are thrilled with the appointment. Good luck Chris.
