READING LIONS LETTER

The Reading Lions Club sent in a letter to the editor in the Chronicle recently that spells out all the wonderful things their organization has done in the past several years. According to the letter they have committed $470,000 over the past five years to their projects with monies raised from such projects as their golf tournament, town day and road race. In 2007 they raised and donated $20,000 to local projects. I salute them for their good works. Maybe, our club should consider a similar letter spelling out the good things we have done in town in recent years. Maybe the Board of Directors can toss the idea around.

ON VACATION

Richie and Patty Lombardo recently returned from their annual two weeks in Aruba. they have been going their annually for a number of years now. John Douglass informed your editor that him and Laurie will not be making a trip to the islands this year. Just too much going on at home. Linda and Vinnie Cottone are also on their annual trip to Florida to stay with relatives on the east coast. They are due back in the near future. And of course Ron and Dorris Winslow are on their annual trip to Naples, Florida for s.

HELP JAY OUT

It is not to soon to give Jay Dowd a hand with his lists of potential advertisers in the Auction 2008 Special Ad section. It seems that it is at the eleventh hour every year that this thing comes together, so for once it would be nice to allow Jay sufficient time to do his job. Linda Cottone is helping this year to make sure that each and every ad is scrutinized for its correctness in copy and content. If you did not receive a list, see Jay and I am sure he will provide you with a list of potential supporters.

A THIRD NEW MEMBER

We have a third new member on our membership list. David Waldman has decided to join our group. Some of you may remember him as a guest several weeks ago. Well, he has decided to join with Richie Lombardo being his sponsor. David is a chiropractor with a local practice. He joins Jill Murray and Lisa Gibbs as new members, a nice shot in the arm for our membership committee which is headed by Steve Chuha.

COMEDY NIGHT IS COMING

The date for the Comedy Night is May 15 a Thursday night at Giggles Comedy Club on route 1 in Saugus. The plan is pretty the same as in past years with the cost to be approximately $20 a head (Final numbers are not in as yet). So mark you calendar, it is always a fun time.
